Hi! I'm Serena White, gardener, artist, and designer behind Falala Garden. I live and create on Lake Eufaula in Oklahoma, where my studio sits just beyond the garden, surrounded by lake views, wildflowers, and everyday wildlife. These quiet, fleeting moments in nature inspire my work—playful designs that bring a bit of the outdoors into the home.

Falala Garden began with a simple vision: to create pieces that spark joy and celebrate the charm of everyday life. Today, that vision has grown into a collection of thoughtfully designed home goods—including mugs, tea towels, and gifts—made to be both beautiful and useful. Each piece is designed to feel at home in kitchens, cabins, campers, and cozy spaces everywhere.
